

Greater Sage-Grouse Scoping Meetings Scheduled for Utah

As part of a national strategy to evaluate greater sage-grouse conservation measures in land use plans, the Bureau of Land Management and the U.S. Forest Service are asking the public to help identify issues to be addressed in an environmental impact statement by attending open house meetings scheduled across the state.

The open house meeting format allows the public to arrive at any time between 5:30-7:30 p.m. Agency staff and resource specialists will be available to answer questions, and written comments can be submitted at the meetings.
